- d. Time will begin when the rider touches the FlowRider® surface.

SEEDING

The Tour Coordinator will determine seeding of riders and heats will be arranged with highest seed riding last.

- a. A rider's seeding will be based on his/her most current and previous year's results. The first event of the season will be seeded based on the previous end-of-year ratings.
 - The competitors will be seeded according to their adjusted ratings from event to event.
- b. Season rankings will be determined after each event.
- c. FLOW Tour season rankings will determine seeding for the USA National Championship.
- d. The results from the USA National Championships will determine seedings for the World Flowboarding Championships.

CRITERIA

- a. Judges analyze the following 4 elements when scoring runs:
 - Commitment and degree of difficulty
 - Innovative and progressive maneuvers
 - Combination of major maneuvers
 - FLOW "style"
- b. The rider who performs radical, controlled, unaided maneuvers with speed, style, and variety while utilizing the entire ride and time, will be given the highest scores.
 - Did the rider show style, control & execute combination of tricks using the entire ride surface during their run?
 - Did rider take full advantage of time clock and finish his run while managing control on the ride surface.
 - Did the rider show commitment in executing difficult maneuvers?

JUDGING

Judges score on a 0.1 – 10-point scale. Judges analyze the criteria along with the following elements when scoring runs.

Based on the criteria, every rider's run is broken down further into 3 categories:

1. Execution
 - a. Minor Falter (Hand Check) - A slight hand check during the landing with minimal effect on the rider's momentum is considered a Minor Falter. 1 point will be deducted for each Minor Falter during the run.
 - b. Major Falter (Double Hand Check or Butt Checking) - A Major Falter is if both hands and/or the rider's butt touches the ride surface during the landing with substantial effect on the rider's momentum by changing direction or event coming to a complete stop. 2 points will be deducted for each Major Falter during the run.

- c. Wipeout (Loss of control, two feet off the board, leaves riding surface) - This is when the rider is completely separated from their board at any stage during the run. If a rider unintentionally has both feet on the ride surface, it is considered a fall. A rider is limited to 2 falls during a run. 2.5 points will be deducted for each fall during the run.

2. Difficulty

- a. Tricks performed - The judge will be comparing and differentiating between each rider's tricks and separate them by technical difficulty, this includes switch tricks.
- b. Amplitude - The judge will be aware of the height the rider gets on each trick. The bigger the better.
- c. Position - The judge will be aware of where the tricks are being performed. Is trick performed across the wave? Is trick performed in the flats?
- d. Timing - The judges will take note of when a trick is performed during a run. Is the rider going big early? Are they holding back until the end? If a rider is showing more risk in the beginning, then they will be rewarded. Judges are also aware of the use of clock throughout the run. Did rider waste time? Did rider complete a final trick before time? Did rider take full advantage of time clock?

3. Variety/Overall Impression

- a. Style - As much as this is subjective, a judge must be conscious of a rider's style. This is not a defining factor of this category but rather a supporting category to help separate riders from one another.
- b. Variation/Uniqueness - A judge must look for variation in the riders run. Repeating tricks can seem like a crutch unless they perform a trick bigger and better than before. Are they switching up the order of the tricks and not being predictable? Is rider showing a variation tricks? Are they doing tricks that no-one else is doing?
- c. Comfort - How comfortable does the rider look? Are they riding with confidence, showing that they know where they are always on the wave and that they can be comfortable in every section of the wave? Does it look effortless?
- d. Transition/Combination Maneuvers - Are riders transitioning from trick to trick? A run that is methodical can hurt a rider as it looks to be planned. Did the rider show style, control & execute combination tricks during their run? The run must look "seamless" and smooth linking each trick to make the run look as perfect as it can within allowed time.

SCORING

Judges will submit a score (0.1-10) for each individual rider after each run.

Judging scale:

[0.0 — 1.9: Poor]

[2.0 — 3.9: Fair]

[4.0 — 5.9: Average]

[6.0 — 7.9: Good]

[8.0 — 10.0: Excellent]

Judging scoring scale will reset for each heat.

- Once the rider has had their runs, their top 2 scores will be added together to give a final score out 20.
- The rider with the highest combined score will be in first followed by second highest and so on.
- Results will be determined by final placings from all 3 judges.
- The rider with the lowest combined placing results will be the winner, followed by second lowest and so on.

NOTE: A tiebreaker will only be required if there is a tie on the master tally sheet.

Rule 1 – The rider that has the highest single score out of the tied riders, based off the sheet from the judge who has them tied, will be placed higher.

Rule 2 – The rider that has the highest total sum of their top ride score based off all three judges, will be placed higher.

Rule 3 – The rider that has the highest total sum of their top 2 ride scores from all three judges, will get the higher placing.

Rule 4 – If there is no other way a tie can be broken then the tied riders must have a flow-off

JUDGING/SCORING PROTESTS

- a. Riders may review judges score sheets up to 10 minutes after results have been announced.
- b. Written protests may be submitted to Head Judge or Contest Director only.

- f. A scoring/judging protest may be submitted within 15 minutes after the result has been announced. This is subject to the availability of the Head Judge and/or Contest Director.

PROTEST PROCEDURE:

The procedure for a protest is as follows:

2. The heat sheets may only be viewed in or around the judging compound and may not be taken to be viewed independently or viewed without the Head Judge and/or Contest Director present.
3. The first item that the Head Judge and/or Contest Director will check the math. If a mistake was made when adding up the scores it will be corrected immediately. If there is no mistake, then we will move on to the next step.
4. The next step is to see if the results were unanimous from all the judges. If the result was unanimous, then NOTHING can be done or changed. If it is not unanimous then it is the Head Judge's decision on whether or not to take it further.
5. If there are no mathematical errors and if the result is unanimous, then that is the final decision. NOTHING CAN OR WILL BE CHANGED!!!!

NOTE: WHEN MAKING A PROTEST, THE RIGHT PROCEDURES NEED TO BE FOLLOWED OTHERWISE THE EVENT DIRECTOR/ CONTEST DIRECTOR/ HEAD JUDGE MAY CHOOSE TO TAKE THE NECESSARY ACTIONS.

JUDGE'S SELECTION

Since flowboarding is a grassroots sport, there's not much bandwidth to have a consistent judging staff. Often the most experienced competitors are the most qualified to judge the events and end up jumping into the role. However, those riders are first and foremost there to compete and focus on the tour title chase.

Whether it's a professional or amateur sporting event, unbiased officiating is paramount to ensure that all the rules are followed, and the competitive field is fair across the board. The good news is that as our sport grows, the number of individuals gaining experience and knowledge for the rules, regulations and judging criteria is growing!
